Structured Learning Assistance (SLA) Program

"My plea in Michigan -- and it will be my plea to the last breath I draw, and the last word I speak -- is education for all children, all men, and all women of Michigan, all the people in all our states all the time."

- Woodbridge Nathan Ferris

(In 1884, Woodbridge established the Big Rapids Industrial School, later renamed Ferris Industrial School (about 1885), Ferris Institute (about 1898), Ferris State College (1963), then Ferris State University (1987).

He served as president of Ferris until his death in 1928.)

Structured Learning Assistance (SLA) Program Summary

What is the SLA Program?

Established in the fall of 1993, The Structured Learning Assistance Program offers all students the opportunity to improve their study and learning skills in specific courses and encourages collaborative learning. The program provides two to three hours of guided study workshops each week. These workshops are in addition to the regular class sessions. Enrollment in SLA courses is voluntary; but, once enrolled, if a student's grade falls below a 2.0, attendance at workshops is mandatory until the cumulate grade point improves to a minimum of 2.0. All students are required to attend the first two workshops. The professor's first assessment determines if continued attendance is required or voluntary.

The workshop facilitator provides specific background information related to the course and assists students in making connections to class lectures. Workshops stress learning the course content and developing effective study methods. SLA facilitators have contact with approximately 10-15% of the total enrolled Ferris student population per semester.

The program also serves as a mechanism for giving professors regular feedback on their teaching. This feedback is provided by the facilitator who manages the workshop and who attends each class session. This feedback allows the professor to make adjustments or re-emphasize information that students are struggling with collectively.

SLA targets courses, not any specific student population. There is no fee for this program. SLA

Program Facts:

- The number of courses offering SLA workshops in the 2005-6 academic year was 43 and this is 226% greater than it was eleven years ago in the 1994-5 academic year with only 19 courses.
- 2532 students were enrolled in courses with SLA workshops in the 2005-6 academic year. The 12-year composite number of students enrolled in SLA workshops each year averages 2526 students.
- Total SLA student enrollment has increased 474% since the 1994-5 academic year which had only 534 students participating in SLA.
- Over the past 9 years, an average of 30 to 31 faculty members have voluntarily participated in SLA each semester during the main academic year.
- When the same faculty member teaches both an SLA section and a Non-SLA section in the same semester (known as a "control" section), a 12-year average of 11.3% more students pass with a "C-" or higher in the SLA sections than in the Non-SLA control course sections.
- In the 2005-6 academic year, 84.7% of the SLA students received course grades that were a "C-" or higher (70% average for control sections during the same year). For this semester 14.7% more students passed their SLA courses with a C- or higher than students in courses taught by the same faculty member without SLA support.
- In the 2005-6 academic year, 9.1% of the SLA students received failing grades and 11.8% of the students withdrew from courses with SLA workshops.
- On average, over 89-93% of students enrolled in SLA sections over the past four years recommend this program and would enroll in it again.

(Year End Summary: Summer 2005 - Winter 2006)

- The number of faculty is 2 less than the previous (2004-05) academic year while the number of SLA facilitators remained the same and the number of students enrolled in SLA course sections decreased by only 2%.
- There were 10% less courses offering SLA workshops (DHYG111, ECON221, and RFIM115) with only 7% less SLA course sections offered this year than the prior year.
- This academic year averaged 21 students per SLA workshop as compared to 20 and 23 for the previous two academic years.

- The College of Allied Health decreased in their overall number of workshops by two as a result of removing DHY111.
- The College of Arts & Sciences reduced by one SLA course offering as a result of removing SOCY121.
- The College of Business reduced by two SLA course offerings as a result of removing ECON221
- All other colleges remained the same.

Notes:

- At the end of the F'05 semester, the Social Sciences Department Head asked that we remove the SLA component from all SOCY121 course sections to see if it was contributing to low student enrollment in SLA sections. There had been a decreasing enrollment trend in the SLA sections with the lowest being under 40% for W'05. Without SLA, the W'06 enrollment was 104% for the course sections that would normally have an SLA component.
- Overall, the F'05 enrollment in SLA course sections increased slightly (from 1330 F'04 to 1351 F'05). However, there was a slight (1%) decrease in the number of students enrolled in SLA sections for vocational courses that qualify for Perkins Grant funding.
- SLA has served over 28,045 students from the first offering of one SLA course section (67 students) in the fall of 1993. Of the total FSU population (12,547 students) for the current semester, 10.7% of the students were enrolled in SLA course sections. This semester we did not offer any SLA course sections at the 400 level, 3% of our offerings were at the 300 level, 25% were at the 200 level, 67% were at the 100 level, and 3% were below the 100 level. Over 70% of our offerings are used by students enrolled in 100 level (or lower) SLA course sections.
- The following courses reported that 100% of the graded students in SLA sections passed with a "C-"or higher: DHYG218, MRIS103, NURS105, NURS226, and SONO101. This represents 21% of the fall 2005 SLA course offerings. Additionally, 90-99% of the graded students in SLA sections passed with a "C-" or higher in ACCT201, ACCT202, CHEM231, FINC322, MATH116, MECH340, MRIS204, NUCM120, RADI121, and SOCY121. Many (45%) SLA course sections had more than 90% of students earning a C- or higher grade. Overall, 90% of the students in SLA course sections earned a C- or higher. This is consistent with the F'04 semester.
- Only 7.8% of the students enrolled in SLA course sections withdrew from their course and only 5.3% received an 'F' grade. Over half (52%) of the courses with SLA sections had no students fail. Nearly one quarter (22%) of SLA course sections had no students withdraw.
- Courses with SLA sections showed pass rates as high as 13% above those from other sections of the same course taught by the same faculty (referred to as a "control group" in the chart above) without the assistance of SLA. Pass rates in SLA course sections also were higher than the departmental average by as much as 28%.
- 90-91% of the students (76% reporting) believe SLA workshops helped them to understand the course material and prepare for tests (90-91% for F'04 as well). 96% (97% F'04) of the students believe that SLA helped them understand the professor's lectures better. 84% (85% F'04) of the students said they were glad that their course had an SLA workshop and 88% (88% F'04, 91% W'04) said they would recommend that others enroll in their course with an SLA workshop. 65% (58% F'04) of the students were in their first SLA course section.
- 82% (100% F'04) of facilitators (22 of 29 reporting) describe the working relationship with their SLA faculty member as being positive to very positive (75% very positive, 3% acceptable, and 7% negative). It should be noted that 100% of faculty (only 16 of 27 reporting) describe their working relationship with their SLA facilitator to be positive to very positive (80% very positive). 92% (88% F'04) of the SLA facilitators report receiving positive to very positive administrative support from the coordinator (65% very positive F'05 from 52% F'04). None report the administrative support to be negative (none were negative F04 either).

Notes:

- SLA has served over 29,189 students from the first offering of one SLA course section (67 students) in the fall of 1993. Of the total FSU population (12,547 students) for the Winter 2006 semester, 9.1% of student were enrolled in SLA course sections (For reference, the F'05 semester had 10.7%, W'05 had 10.4%, and F'04 had 11.3%). The percentage of students participating in the SLA program appears to be decreasing (by 19.5% over 2 years), however I do not believe this is due to lack of student interest in the program (91-93% of SLA students are glad they had SLA and would recommend it to others). As a result of budget reductions, the number of courses with SLA sections has also been reduced. Over the past 2 years, the fall SLA course offerings have decreased by 41% and the winter SLA course offerings have decreased by 21%. In spite of a reduced number of courses offering SLA workshops, the amount of course sections has remained about the same over the two year period. Fall sections are within +3 and -2 sections of the 63 section average and winter sections are within +/- 2 sections of the 58 section average. The rate at which SLA enrollment has been decreasing (19.5%) is less than the average rate the number of course offerings had been decreasing (31%). The decreased SLA enrollment may be in part due to a smaller variety of different course types to select from when students enroll for courses. On average, SLA has been able to offer 93% as many course sections as we did 2 years ago even though there are only 69% as many different courses offering SLA workshops. I recommend increasing SLA funding.
- One third (32%) of the courses with SLA sections had no students fail. One quarter (26%) of the courses with SLA sections had no students withdraw from their SLA course section.
- The following courses reported that 100% of the graded students in SLA sections passed with a "C-"or higher: DHYG121, EEET124, MRIS211, NURS116, NURS236, and RADI111. This represents 32% of the SLA course offerings for the semester (32% average for the past 4 semesters). Additionally, 92-99% of the graded students in SLA sections passed with a "C-" or higher in FINC322 and MRIS103. Over 42% of the courses with SLA sections had more than 92% of the students earning a C- or higher grade. Overall, 85% of the students in SLA course sections earned a C- or higher.
- Courses with SLA sections showed pass rates as high as 26% above those from other sections of the same course taught by the same faculty (referred to as a "control group" in the chart above) without the assistance of SLA. The SLA program average was 15% above the control sections average.
- 93-94% of the students (77% reporting) believe SLA workshops helped them to understand the course material and prepare for tests. 97% of the students believe that SLA helped them understand the professor's lectures better. 91% of the students said they were glad that their course had an SLA workshop and 93% said that they would recommend that others enroll in their course with an SLA workshop (51% of the students were in their first SLA course section).
- 100% of SLA facilitators (64% reporting) describe the working relationship with their SLA faculty member as being positive to very positive (56% very positive). 100% of SLA facilitators report receiving positive to very positive administrative support from the coordinator (75% said very positive).

ACCT201 had SLA HSGPA and ACT scores are all lower than the control section and departmental average which may indicate that SLA had an even greater impact on students than the +10% and +19% pass rate differences show. SLA graded pass rates were 21%, 19%, and 27% over the departmental averages for the previous three semesters and 19% for the F'05 semester. Continue Support

CHEM103 had a new SLA facilitator in F'05 and a pass rate that was -4% under the average and -10% under the control with similar HSGPA and ACT scores. The facilitator mentioned that he noticed low levels of motivation and resentment in the students who were required to attend workshops. Note that the most recent 4-YR (S'01-W'05) average graded pass rate for the control section is 64% and the F'05 control graded pass rate is higher than the average by +18% which may be a factor in the -10% difference reported. Over the same 4-YR period there was an SLA graded pass rate of +12% higher than the control sections with an average pass rate of 76%. Bears Watching

CHEM121 had a new SLA facilitator for F'05 and an SLA graded pass rate that is +2% higher than W'05. The F'05 SLA graded pass rate of 80% is +8% higher than the most recent 4-YR (S'01-W'05) average and is also a +6-7% increase over the 4-YR control and departmental averages. The facilitator noted that many students withdrew early in the semester, some the first day (as reflected in the F'05 15% withdrawal rate). W'05 had an SLA graded pass rate of 86%, which at the time was +14% more than the control section. Bears Watching

CHEM231 had no students fail in the F'05 semester and only one student withdrawal (4%). The F'05 SLA graded pass rate is also +25% over the most recent 4-YR average (S'01-W'05). F'05 had an SLA mentor and new SLA apprentice facilitator conducting the workshop jointly. The course professor also implemented a new grading technique for the F'05 semester (drop lowest test grade in the final grade calculations.) The same 4-YR period reported a 19% withdrawal rate and an 11% failure rate with an average graded pass rate for SLA students at 70%. The Physical Sciences department would like to try a semester without SLA for pass rate comparisons. Continued Support Suggested

EEET114 had fewer withdrawals and a pass rate that is +21% higher than non-SLA students for F'05. The F'05 SLA withdrawal rate is -10% under the non-SLA withdrawal rate and the SLA failure rate is -18% under the non-SLA failure rate. The SLA F'05 sections do have slightly higher HSGPA and ACT scores. F'04 reported a graded pass rate that was +17% higher than the non-SLA departmental average. Over the most recent 4-YR period (S'01-W'05), the SLA graded pass rate was 78%, which is +23% higher than the control section's average for the same time period. The average 12-YR composite withdrawal rate for the SLA sections is 20% (23% for the control sections) and the failure rate is 15% (23% control). MATH116 F'05 semester did not have a control group, but the SLA section had a +23% higher pass rate than non-SLA. Considering that the most recent 4-YR (S'01-W'05) SLA graded pass rate is 61%, F'05 passed +31% more SLA students than the 4-YR average with no course failures and similar withdrawal rate. HSGPA and composite ACT scores are comparable. The non-SLA graded pass rate was 69% for both the F'05 and W'05 semesters. For comparison, the same professor taught this course for the W'05 semester, but only had an SLA pass rate of 77% (-15% lass than the F'05 SLA graded pass rate of 92%). MRIS204 F'05 had one withdrawal and one course failure. One potential factor contributing to the F'05 course failure and/or course withdrawal is that this semester's HSGPA is less than the 4-YR average by 0.5 points and the composite ACT score is also significantly less than the average by 4.7 points.
