What is Digital Dossiers?
Digital Dossiers is a web platform that allows you to curate, organize, and manage your personal and professional portfolio of accomplishments in one secure location, and to share your digital persona with other professionals, communities and organizations seeking to hire talent and services.

How does Digital Dossiers work?
You create a master portfolio of digital content—documents, PDFs, videos and other creations—that you capture, organize and continually update regarding your personal and professional accomplishments. In addition, you can select a public profile that enables potential employers and other interested parties to search for and connect with you. Finally, you have the ability to create and send customized Digital Dossiers constructed from your portfolio that conveys a tailored message to employers, academic institutions or other organizations that you choose to engage. You control access, and open a feedback loop where you can get detailed insight into who has viewed your Digital Dossiers and what areas they have focused their attention on.

Why build a Digital Dossiers?
Your personal digital archive is a private repository of career accomplishments that can be transformed into a variety of distinct dossiers to convey a targeted message. By sending this customized collection of videos, documents and interactive models, you invite your audience to engage with you and more deeply explore who you are as a professional. The dossier provides you with direct feedback so you know who has reviewed your materials. Your Digital Dossier Portfolio is dynamic, cumulative and empowers you to distinguish yourself as a professional.

The ability to demonstrate skills, competencies and standout
Digital Dossier provides you with a new and impactful way to present a convenient, secure cloud based representation of who you are as a professional. Digital Dossiers empowers you to move beyond the traditional means of representing yourself by offering detailed, dynamic, and real life professional experiences, which demonstrate your skills, competencies, and accomplishments as a professional. You can customize your presentation to include transcripts, video clips and other artifacts such as models, projects and accomplishments to suit your specific needs on a case by case basis.

Moving beyond social media
Digital Dossiers goes beyond social media by integrating all aspects of your digital presence in one secure and convenient location. It empowers you to chronicle your professional development, share your personal passions and participate and contribute to virtual communities at home and around the globe.

Empowerment, efficiency and value
Digital Dossiers also offers customizable private label solutions for industry, educational institutions, organizations and associations. Working together the Digital Dossiers team can empower your organization to create the ultimate digital platform to curate, assess and build digital communities in an efficient and economical manner, which enhances your brand.
