

October 18, 2005 Jill Trinklein, HVACR PR, Marketing & Distance Learning Officer
(231) 591-2695 trinkl@ferris.edu

Guest lecturer gets high reviews from Ferris State University' MSCA Student Organization

-On October 13, 2005, internationally known Speaker, Author and Consultant, Mark Matteson of Lynwood, WA, visited the Granger Center for Construction and HVACR to speak to Construction and HVACR students about "Raising the Bar" to achieve higher levels of personal and professional performance.

Said, HVACR MSCA member, Teresa Batke, "Marks' ideas about personal development for success are simple; live life with passion and purpose remembering to keep a positive attitude".

Mark has been called a street scholar, an idea reporter and an insightful business humorist. He has written dozen of articles and has been written about for his unique and profit producing seminars. He is author of three books including the best seller, "Freedom from Fear".

