Why Choose the Masters of Information Systems Management?
The thirty-three (33) hour Information Systems Management (ISM) masters program has been developed for individuals who wish to acquire the skills necessary to enter the information technology (IT) profession, or IT professionals who need to enhance and/or broaden technical and associated IT management skills. The MS-ISM program focuses on the concepts and skills for effective leadership and includes concentration choices in emerging areas such as outsourcing management and several technical areas with growing career potential.

MS-ISM courses are specially designed for flexible scheduling to serve both full-time students and part-time students who are working professionals. Full-time students can complete the program in 12 months. Students can enter the program at the start of any semester.

The MS-ISM consists of nine core courses, an integrated capstone project, and two elective courses that can be selected in combination with core courses to complete one of five Advanced Study Certificates.

Invest in Your Future
The MS ISM offers individuals that unique opportunity to enter the IT profession or enhance technical and managerial skills and academic credentialing necessary to maximize career opportunities and advancement.
